Blood & Honour Rumania - The Chronicles

Comrades,

This here magazine speaks up for the progress Blood & Honour has been making for the last couple of years in Rumania. It's the real story counting both ups and downs of our local unit. Without lies, nor exaggeration, just the pure facts.

We must stress that many statements written in this magazine are illegal in Rumania as well as in some other countries in Europe, so please be careful whom you share the story with. Before we do let everybody in on our upbringing as an organisation, we would like to thank division heads from the Netherlands and Ukraine for their fantastic support. Last, but not least, we thank you for buying this. So here goes.

The word says the first skinheads to emerge in Rumania came from the city of Reghin, where a bunch of cropped youngsters made the headlines in mid 90's. It was about some arsons, beatings and likes. Such deeds were actually quite common after the 1989 anti-communist revolution as many white Rumanians took action against local gypsies because of the latter's anti-social behaviour. In the long run though the aliens got more rights because the resistance was poorly organised for the most part whilst ZOG hurried to take over. That's also why skinhead nests such as the ones in Reghin or Miercurea Ciuc, which were predominantly formed by ethnic Germans or Hungarians anyway, didn't make any difference and eventually disbanded.

It follows that the actual movement starts in Timisoara city on a Serbian network. Initially, there were just some violent teens spreading terror all over the place, but for the first time Rumanian skinheads teamed up with ethnic Serbians, Germans and Hungarians. It was past the mid 90s and several contacts with National Socialists from the capital Bucharest but also other cities like Pitesti for example were being made, a couple of zines were released, meetings were taking place and little by little skinheads became a wide-spread phenomenon, even though in some areas there were just two or even a single individual. Generally speaking, everybody knew each other and it came time to make it all official, but religion would always be a problem.

Needless to say, many people went away as easy as they came, you can still see some of them flying the flags on the football terraces but that's all they are capable of doing, while the die-hard racials stayed and got organised. Thus, the Christian branch of Timisoara skinheads went in with religious youth nationalchauvinist organisation Noua Dreaptă, which is centred in the capital Bucharest and today they even have gypsy members and leaders. Some of the remaining skins linked up with the few heathens from Bucharest and Pitesti, who were accepted in the Brotherhood on December 1st, 2001, which by the way proudly happened together with Rumania's 83rd national day.

Timisoara boys would never become full members of the organisation though, cause of different reasons like the long distance in the first place, then most of them being busy with mandatory military service, going abroad to find better-paid jobs etc. But they have always stood by us and helped us with logistics whenever they could afford it. Here I'll mention 2 Rumanian editions of our zine and several other CD and tape printings. Our gratitude goes out especially to Dragan, Alex and Alin.

In any case, the unit itself was led by Cezar and Kătană, two Moldavians for those who want to know, whose families settled down in Bucharest several years ago, and it counted up to 10 members. Also, there were 5 people in Pitesti who have always kept in touch by mail or phone and met with the others from time to time.

The first step forward was to release a zine, which had been in the works since late 2000, but it took so long cause almost all bands and parties we tried and contacted not only they didn't believe there really were skinheads in Rumania, but everybody thought we weren't even fucking white because of the gypsy immigrants, who just happened to be citizens of our country thanks to you know who, and gave us all a bad name in Germany and all around Europe. But that's a total different story and everybody should know the truth by now! If you don't, well, then fuck off!

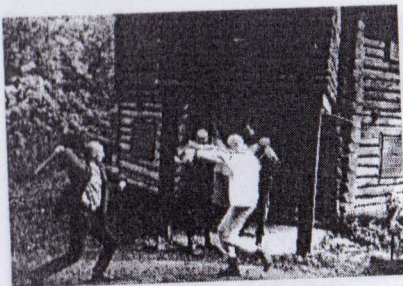

So came out 'Impact 14' and we made our first contacts with foreign divisions by introducing that very sample. The highlights of this photocopied zine were as it follows: the interview with America's NO ALIBI and an article called "Be Consistent!" which addressed against so called ns black-metal trend! We know there are decent comrades in black-metal underground, but the ones in Rumania are really pathetic, so the article couldn't have worked better. The zine was successfully sold in approximately 50 copies, but we had to stop distributing it out in the open when the new race law was endorsed in the spring of 2002. So we had to go underground...

Shortly, the race decree forbids public exhibit of our symbols, revisionist propaganda, like "holohoax" denial for example, the praise of war criminals, which is the label they use when referring to our heroes and martyrs, the law says that even the meeting of a small group of at least three persons who would discuss racist issues, is a criminal act, imagine that! One can get from 5 to 15 years in jail when caught founding or being a member of a ns organisation. Just wearing a racist t-shirt throws one in jail for 6 months to 5 years. So there you have it. Hopefully, they haven't started getting on us yet, probably because they don't want to make a big fuss about it, not when the elections are coming up anyway, or they are too busy kissing Bush's ass and sending young boys to die for him and his jewish masters in Afghanistan, but the law is there and it can always be enforced on us. Statues of WW2 marshal Antonescu had been taken down and lots of books withdrawn from stores though.

There are a couple of other people on trial, but it seems to go on forever. Also, an ethnic Hungarian skinhead was incarcerated for killing a homeless gypsy kid, some fines had to be paid to police for street violence, but that's about it.

As for Blood & Honour, it was going to be the first internal change and several others would follow. So when the winds started to blow, cry-babies hurried up back home to their 9 til 5 way of life. Being a skinhead was too tough for them. But a few daring men went on carefully avoiding the law. Of course, there wasn't a real organised unit anymore, but instead only three people did all of the job, while the rest simply limited to hang out in pubs with us and buy our products. From time to time discussions about getting our chapter back on its feet again were being held, but nothing ever happened.

In June 2002, we released a new zine called "vOInta!" (which is Rumanian for "the will" as in "the Triumph of..."). It featured interviews with the British division, Micetrap distro from the United States, an article on motherhood written by a Canadian skin-girl, 1st chapter of Skrewdriver - First ten Years by Joe Pearce, and of course different reviews. It was distributed for free in over 150 copies. We'd like to take this opportunity to thank a special bon-bin girl from Timisoara who drew the cover for us and all other (un)tamed valkyries for inspiration. You know who you are.

At the same time we also released three audio-tapes, Symphony of Sorrow - "Paradise Lost", Storm - "... for Blood and Honour" and a compilation featuring 4 Serbian B&H bands. Each tape was sold in over 50 copies so far. Not much, but still enough for Rumania at this moment.

That summer our "number one" had to go in the Army and so did other comrades. You can read all about Cezar's experience as a private in Finland's Voice! magazine #10. Things got difficult having our best men busy with either the Army or full-time jobs, and so meetings took place hardly ever as months passed. Then fucking Combat 18 pumped up in Bucharest. Nobody knew who they were or where did they come from. Being just a few skinheads in the city, everybody knew each other of course, so it was quite a blow to see a brand new gang making trouble around. Of course they talked shit about us and everybody else in the nationalist scene for that matter, made threats and all in all followed the usual c18 party line. At first, everybody took them seriously, but in the long run they turned out to be just some teens tricking people on the Internet. We met them once and took them in for questioning. Most of them weren't even skinheads, nor did they value Ian Stuart, nor did they even know who our mentor was, they were just a bunch of bastards who didn't know anything about how the world goes, and still they dared to use the name of Blood & Honour which they accidentally found on the net. Later after education a couple of them dumped c18 and became valuable members of the true B&H. The rest simply scattered away or probably there are some leftovers clinging to their evil nazi image online.

In October 2002, our second issue came out. It featured interviews with Swedish Vikings STORM, BNS (Bulgarian Nationalist Union), an article on womanhood, short story Pitesti unit in Rumania and of course the Skrewdriver series. It was sold in about 100 copies, which was fairly good, especially that we even got a reasonable number of subscriptions for future issues.

In May 2003, our third issue came through, this time professionally printed thanks to our comrades in the Netherlands, who helped financially. It featured interviews with British division once again, Brigade M, Stormwolf, B&H Serbia, the Skrewdriver series and reviews of course. Also, there was a poster with Tim Mudde, bass player of Brigade M. The zine was printed in 200 copies and is now sold out.

All this time, the army boys did their best and got days off from the service just to assist our struggle and it's mostly thanks to Cezar and the rest of the guys that we managed to release a second and third issue, kept contacts one with each other, and grew to be the organisation we are today. Also, we can't disregard ongoing efforts made by Daniel from Pitesti and Marian from Bucharest who took care of things while the others served in the Army or elsewhere. Unfortunately, the latter, Marian, didn't go all the way with us as he was up to here with putting money in our products and getting none back, seems like he thought everything was just a fucking business, and considering his low financial condition of his family, he moved out. Our opinion is there can't be any reason to leave the scene, no matter how hard it is, one should always stand by what he believes in. We thought a lot before posting this traitor's story here (because that's what he is, especially when he left the scene with his pockets full of fee-payers' cash), we don't want you to misinterpret our intent, we don't settle scores here, that guy is not important now, but we promised to tell you the whole story, and that's what we're doing. It was difficult to win over people in sending more cash in, after they learnt that the collector they did trust actually ran away with the money. We'd like to thank people who sold books, shirts, CDs from their own collection to help us get over the situation, it's with them we went on as a division again.

Last summer Rumania was supposed to finally make it to the worldwide skinhead map by setting up a gig with Brigade M from the Netherlands, but some people failed to appreciate the importance of the event and it never happened. We had to cancel it just two days before the Dutch should have come here for nothing. Once gain, we'd like to apologize to Tim & Co. and thank them for understanding.

Not everything was lost though, because Erik of the Dutch division visited us and it meant a lot to us to meet a B&H official after all. We learnt many things from discussions with him and we decided we're up to a fresh start, our men returned from the Army, others finished school, so things would get on the right track from then on.

We released our 4th issue, which featured interviews with local Timisoara chapter of Noua Dreaptă (mostly for the sake of skinhead unity before they turned gypsy on us) and English Rose, the latter was conducted by Flemish comrade D. whom we thank again! Also, there was an auto-biography by Tim Mudde (Brigade M), an article dedicated to nationalist World Box Champion Doroftei and the poster featured him, and of course the Skrewdriver series. The magazine is almost sold out when we type this report in.

Also we put out a tape and CD featuring best tracks of Brigade M from the Netherlands, also managed to play Brigade M on the radio, got them reviewed in non-movement music mags. and also got them on metal compilation along with non-political bands released by a local label. What better way to promote our ideology than getting people who are not into the movement to listen to our bands? We sold several tens copies and orders keep coming in.

All this time we managed to meet on a regular basis, sometimes even attend other nationalist and legionary organisations' events, where we successfully sold our products to the youngsters who were also present. Of course, some far-right wing nationalists didn't like us being there, feared they would ruin their reputation if associated with us "neo-nazis", and there were a couple of tensed up moments, but in the end they had to bear us ;-)

We made contacts with some of our neighbouring divisions in the first place, but also with others from far away. Most important was Cezar's trip to Ukraine team up with our neighbouring comrades, and even Poles and Russians (hello Denis & Kolja) therefore provide evidence of true white unity despite historical prejudice over territories. No matter the ongoing Zionist control in our nation states, we are but brothers and sisters of the same race and accordingly we share the same European homeland. Maybe someday skinheads from Hungary will also realize this.

Besides the usual skinhead propaganda, we started a campaign to aid unfortunate white families in Rumania and with help from local and foreign supporters, last Autumn we managed to make a few donations consisting mostly of warm clothes to families with lots of children and also history and movement books to village school libraries. Starting spring 2004, we will do a joint action with Women for Aryan Unity and we're hoping for great results.

That should sum it up. We're up to 10 full members and have a few probates. By the time you read this, we should also have our t-shirts out and we plan to release an "unfortunate Rumanian white children support" sampler, so we take this opportunity to ask bands world-wide to donate us a song. The profits will go to our children clothing fund. Also, family of Denis from Kolovrat will benefit from a small percent of the profits. So do get in touch and together we can make the 14 words real!

WE MUST SECURE THE EXISTANCE OF OUR PEOPLE AND A FUTURE FOR WHITE CHILDREN!

Blood & Honour

THE NETHERLANDS

How much of what you had heard about Rumania's racial issue before visiting my country proved to be actually true?

Before I visited your country my opinion wasn't very good about Rumania. A lot of gypsies are making a mess from the country now at this moment, and because of the fucking commies in your country it was already a terrible situation. That was my personal opinion about it, not many National Socialist people, but in my eyes a lot of commie and gypsy haters. Now I visited your country and my opinion was right.

Do you think skinheads here stand any chance of making a change?

I think it is very difficult to be a skinhead in a country where are still many commies, but also a good point in your country is that because of them, there are also many people who think about the situation, so there is a very good possibility to have a good scene there, but there is really much work to do, but yes everywhere is a chance to make a change.

What sector of the movement here do you think we should work at first?

What I saw in your country is that most of skinheads live far away from each other, in most of the cities I visited there are 5 or 6 people who are able to do something for the movement, so what's very important for you is the cooperation between those people, find in every active city a contact person, let all the so called contact people stay in contact with all of them, and after that you have little active groups, who can arrange their own things, begin with a meeting for all the active people in Rumania, so you can start with a group where everybody knows each other.

From what you saw here for yourself, are we off on a good start?

The people I know there now are on the good way yes, but there is too much work to do for the small number of people who are active.

Now then how hard was it for you to bring people together in the Netherlands, having to deal with competitors such as c18 for example?

Also in the Netherlands it is very hard to get all the people on the same track, in the past there were many problems, several Dutch politic right wing groups split up, and also inside the skinhead scene have always been many problems.

When we became an official division of the Brotherhood there were many good active people in Blood and Honour, most of them for a long time inside the scene, and after a while more and more people became active for BH, but also there were some people who didn't know exactly about the problems with C18, so because the Dutch division was growing so fast there where also some youngsters inside the Brotherhood, after education most of them opened their eyes, but also remained some people who still supported C18, but they are not a part of us anymore. But C18 is like in any other European country, it just doesn't have any meaning in Holland either.

Has religion ever tempted B&H members there like it does in Rumania?

No, religion is not important for most of the skinheads in Holland, absolutely none of our members is religious, so it is not as in your country where skinheads are religious. Of course some skinheads have to believe in something, but my personal opinion is that to be a National Socialist is a belief on its own, and I think it's not possible to mix it with most of the other believes. Sure, National Socialism is not a belief, but we believe in some very strong things, but the situation in some other countries where there are religious skinheads is not something I know enough about to have an opinion about it.

What would be the main methods of achieving B&H object, speaking from your own experience?

The best propaganda we have is our music, because of the music new people will join the scene, and very important young people educate themselves because of the music, also a very good way to reach many people is the internet, but you have to be very carefully with the internet, all messages will be checked.

What measures do you recommend should be taken when organizing a gig or doesn't matter what meeting to avoid the unjust law?

The most important thing to arrange is a legal place to keep the gig or meeting, many times when the place is not good the meeting or gig is also very bad, so arrange a good place so the police can't stop you. Off course in countries like Rumania it's always possible for the police to stop a meeting or gig, but here in the Netherlands it's not easy for them if it is in a legal place, many paperwork before they can finally stop us.

What about the security during meetings or gigs?

It's very important that you have a own security team, off course it depends how big the meeting is, I know several good divisions with a very good security team, but if there is a gig in Rumania and there are for example 40 visitors it's not the most important thing to arrange, but when the gig is for 400 people off course it's very important.

Should one worry about any other troublemakers besides the police, for example in the Netherlands?

No there are not really problems with punks if there is a meeting or something else, our biggest problem is the law. Many left wing scum are active on the internet, but when there is a meeting there are not really problems with them, something different if there is a right wing demonstration, because if there is one there are always many punks and left wing to disturb the demonstration. Many local people are standing next to the left wing scum so very difficult to get a good idea about the large number of left wing scum who is active against us.

What about diary life?

Here in the Netherlands there are always problems with the law like in most other countries. But most of the problems are when there is a meeting or something. In private life there are not much problems with the law or with left scum or aliens. You can wear whatever you want, in Germany it's illegal to wear some typical skinhead clothes but here everything is allowed so not really problems in private life more than in other countries.

Well, what would be the main features that set NS Superman apart from the rest of the white trash?

I think when you are NS and you really believe in it, that soon it is clear that you are different than most others who are sitting in pub and talk about it. To be a NS has nothing to do with being skinhead, those things are 2 complete different things. So if you are NS it doesn't matter if you are skinhead, headbanger, punk, or anything else, if you really believe in it soon you will be different than all the rest of the so called white trash.

Then why is it that alcohol is such an imperative tradition in (NS) skinhead life?

The alcohol is something that's important for most of the skinheads it doesn't matter if you are a NS skinhead or not, but if you are a ns skinhead it's very important to think about when to use it. If there is a gig it's great to get drunk, but when there is a meeting it's important to stay sober during the meeting, and most of the meetings there are always some troublemakers who really don't give a shit about the meeting and more about the alcohol.

No really but did you like the beer you had in Rumania?

I think the beer in your country is like piss from a cow, so that's why I was drinking vodka, it was so cheap there so a very nice way to get drunk.

Now then, our little chat ends here, thank you for the interview. Please type in your last comments...

I want to thanks the skinheads in Rumania I met there for the vodka drinking evenings. And Stay proud and keep the spirit alive brothers 88

It's with great honour that we present you the following interview with the flagband of Ukraina, which this time was answered by a real member of Sokyra Peruna and Blood & Honour division there, namely Arseniy, and not by infamous local c18 bitch who pretended to be in charge of the Ukrainian movement, hence she caused the ban of this great country from the rest of the Brotherhood in late 2002. Now, after much electronic traffic and visit to Kiev last December, we can say the Ukrainians are indeed working their way through to becoming a true B&H division once again and we fully support their re-admission in the Brotherhood. So here's what Arseniy had to say...

In what circumstances did the skinhead movement reach Ukraine?

The 1st skinheads in Ukraine appeared in 1992 after the country gained Independence. On the wave of nationalism more & more people start considering national-socialism & racialism the only correct ideology. The 1st right band played hate-core, their names are "Scorb", "ZDV66/1". In 1995 the 1st WPNS band "Bulldog" was created. This point we can call the beginning of music skinhead movement in Ukraine. Now we have enough WP bands but the 1st who played RAC in this country was "Bulldog". Later 2 members of "Bulldog" (me & drummer Dem'yan) created "Sokyra Peruna". So the skinhead movement in my country is pretty young comparing to long WP history of other European countries. But we make fast progress...

Blood & Honour

grows. But due to some objective historical reasons the movement is still "young" and we can't say that there're many powerful groups in Ukraine. They are spread over different cities and sometimes all that connects them is football.

What's it like being a national socialist skinhead in a former Soviet country?

Communist regime had collapsed 12 years ago & new generation knows little about that time. That's why it doesn't have any stereotypes & "brakes", connected with communism. The only problem left is veterans of Red Army who don't want to see & hear anything about NS. They still walk with red flags shouting: "For Motherland! For Stalin!" Thus the image of enemy - fascist is forming in society. Elder generation doesn't want to hear any arguments as well as to accept the truth. But I think to be a skinhead is equally difficult in any country at present. Being NS is not only ideological platform but also a way of creating a superman who will dominate the lower races. And he will win in spite of problems of communism or liberalism or whatever!

Don't thousand of Ukrainian martyrs who opposed the Soviets in the past count?

The matter is that old people live by past when all negative moments were hidden in USSR. When everything was discovered old communists just said: "That's all lie, they try to trick us, we don't believe!" The situation is better in Western Ukraine where freedom-loving & nationalistic atmosphere is very strong & where people still remember their heroes & thousands of Ukrainians who gave their lives for Ukrainian freedom.

By the way, what's your relationship with the ethnic Rumanians there?

In Ukraine, especially in West, there are lots of nationalities Romanians, Bulgarians, Serbs, Hungarians, Polish. My attitude towards all White People is wonderful if they aren't jews, of course.

So, what makes a skinhead go all the way?

The price of uncompromising a skinhead pays, I think, is the same for all White countries each of which is under growing ZOG pressure. If one stands on this way he should be ready for opposition from different sides (it concerns job, studying, social opinion). Unlike Western countries where NSWP infrastructure is well developed & it's possible, for example, to earn money by producing CD, zines, T-shirts, recording music & completely plunging into skin area, in Ukraine it's a problem for real racist to find a job. But anyway at the moment we don't have another choice. We can't step back because we've already lost a lot. Some of our comrades are in prison now (like ex-drummer SOKYRA PERUNA), some have to live secretly, but this is our choice...

How come is he in prison?

In March, 2002 after football match on Dinamo stadium a group of skinheads & hooligans (about 50 people) went to the central Kiev synagogue. During jewish praying inside they broke 12 windows, dispersed this inferior crowd. Rabbi, his assistant & some personages were beaten up. The problem was that this action was absolutely disorganized & lot of guys were caught at once. Some of them spoke too much & informed police about drummer's participation in this case. I was lucky that I had an "alibi" J))) - I've been to another city. We hid him as far as we could but because of his stupidity he was found. Now he is imprisoned. His address: Volkov Dimitriy Yuriyovich, Vinnitska obl., Pischanskiy r-n, s.Trudove, VK-59, 5 otryad, Ukraine.

What's the story of your local BH chapter?

The BH Ukraine history is full of rising & falling, wins & fails, truth & lie. It's difficult to realize that in the movement of Pan Aryan activists exist betrayers & liars both in Europe & my country. BH Ukraine Division was created in the end 1998 due to efforts of 2 members of Sokyra Peruna band. In the future this band became the flagman of BH movement in Ukraine. During these years we organized a lot of big gigs in Ukraine. Also SP & comrades played concert in Poland. But as a result of false activity of Olexandra, who called herself "the leader" of BH Ukraine & provoked negative attitude of many BH & NS comrades all over the world to Ukraine, a lot of White People identificate BH Ukraine with the name of this internet rat. It's painful to realize but Internet really influences people minds & in result activities of a virtual person are taken for real. In this situation White Patriots of Ukraine must do their best to show that the organization created by Ian Stuart is not just a sound or Internet diversion in Ukraine. We follow Ian Stuart & ask you to support us in our struggle!

So what does the actual BH Ukraine division do?

By now all concerts in Ukraine were organized with participation of real B&H. We make 3-4 gigs per year plus different actions dedicated to our holydays (both pagan & ideological). Now together with ----Ukrainian chapter of WCOTC we plan to issue zine "Struggle" & organize ISD Memorial in September this year. Lots of plans but not for publishing (ha-ha).

Then religion is a big deal inside your movement?

Well, I suppose religion means a lot. I m a heathen & our band name proves it. I think souls of our ancestors & warriors help us in our final struggle. As for WCOTC we do the common cause & support each other.

But what about christian nationalists?

My strict conviction is that christianity, communism, liberalism, pacifism are purely jewish idea that's why my attitude to christianity is negative. It's impossible to believe in some jew & to fight against jews. I think our task is to explain it to people who are wrong in their faith if they are true nationalists and not chauvinists. Problem is that in our land Christianity is official religion for many years & lots of people say: "Our ancestors fought for jesus". But I'm sure they fought for their land, blood, children, wives, parents, but not for mythical jew.

Is football popular amongst skinheads there?

Really, most of skinheads are football fans. Also many of them prefer hooligan ideology. Me & SP are not big fans of any of football teams but we support the idea of right hooliganism only if we don't see as White people cripple each other before & after match. We must unite without terminating our Race.

What treatment do non-white players get from common Ukrainian football fans (who are not necessarily skinheads)?

Well, skinheads' attitude is clear. Because 90% of real fans & troublemakers follow the right ideology at least orally their attitude to non-White players is adequate. Though many times I watched their joy when a nigger scores a goal. But in general the attitude, of course, is deeply negative. For example, when "Mentalist" (Kharkiv, the 2nd city in size in Ukraine) bought its 1st nigger fan section was immediately decorated with slogans: "88" & "nigger go home!" And such situations are frequent.

What about the police on the stadium?

Speaking of slogans "88" & "nigger go home", I meant mostly the 1st & the 2nd league of Ukrainian Championship where there're not so many cops. Most of them simply don't know what is "88" & even support us concerning niggers. Surely such slogans can't be hang on match of "Dinamo" in Kiev or in other big Ukrainian cities.

So how rough is ZOG oppression there?

In spite there's no law in Ukraine prohibiting to say against jews or Holocaust, situation is hard. Mass Media is totally under control of jewish lobby which owns huge concerns, football clubs (for ex. Dinamo), etc. In Government & Parliament the majority is also jews. By building new synagogues, schools, universities, they form social opinion & take power into their hands. Historically in Ukraine, Russia & Byelorussia attitude to jews was always strictly negative. Mass pogrom proves it. But jews actions are as always cunning. They change surnames, create image of good people by granting money & buying schools, universities & other life spheres. Presenting themselves as industrious, clever & noble they support their money investment with Talmud. I'd compare it to quiet occupation when there's nothing obvious but semites are everywhere. For more than 2 years we can't organize gig in Kiev every doors are closed before us. The situation is getting worse year by year.

What's your future plan to resist the ongoing Zionist take over?

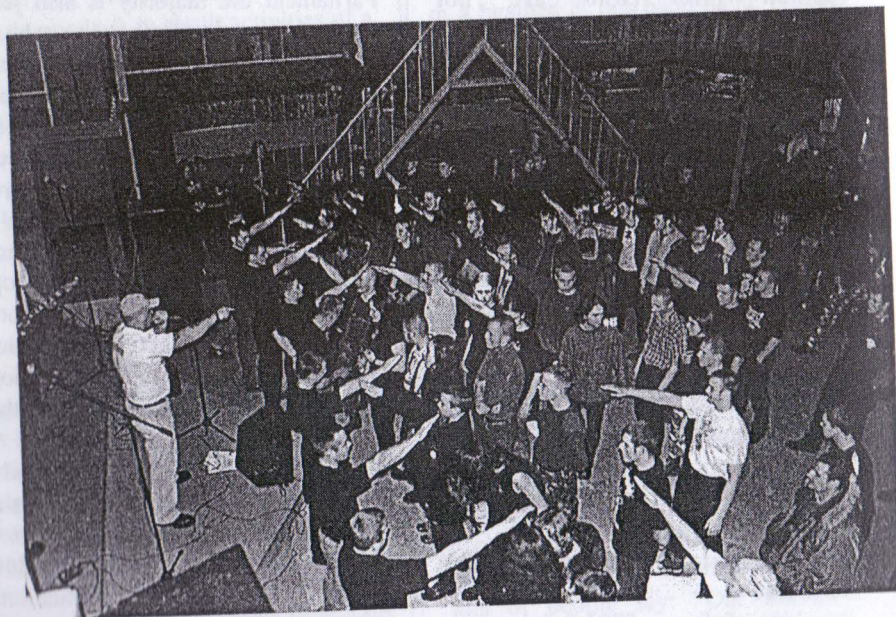

I think we must maximum unite our forces to resist ZOG. We shouldn't neglect such things as family, studying, earning money, job in order to be maximum devoted to our common matter in each sphere of life. We must defeat zionists by their weapon - money, social influence & at the same time we must increase features inherent only to White Man: power of spirit, courage, mind, strong will, hot heart. Being an example for people we can unite them & one great day take weapon.

This is where we end the interview, so last words belong to you...

The most important thing, my comrades, is uncompromising & strict believe in our Victory 1488 %. No matter how difficult it is & how many prevents are there in our way, we must win! We follow Ian Stuart. His example will light this way for us as we reach RAHOWA!!!

<http://www.sokyraperuna.org>

What form of action did the September 11th terrorist-attacks set off in your local scene?

Soon after the attacks, the FEDs, ADL, and anti-terrorists task force began surveillance on our group at the time, the South Florida Aryan Alliance. They scared a bunch of people around us and we weren't welcomed in a few of the local bars anymore. Our treasonous government is now running the Homeland Security Act now as well. Their job is to watch and harass the right wing basically. It's harder to hold family events anymore because most of the conservative right wing are afraid to attend due to surveillance. We don't need the scared, weak and timid anyways.

Did the ongoing pressure have any effect on the band?

The only pressure has come from CD and record pressing plants. Our debut CD, "We've Come For War" was rejected by 2 press plants before it was finally pressed by the 3rd. We're having the same problem now with our new 7" EP, "Things I Hate". It too has already been rejected by 2 more pressing plants. We're hoping that the 3rd plant we're trying to use now, will press our record. As for pressure with band members, we're all strong minded and have an eternal burning will. We will never give up or scare away. It only motivates us all the more.

So is vinyl yet in style there?

I don't know if it's in style, but I still like it. I know loads of Europeans that still like it too. So we'll keep releasing vinyl.

Do you mean you have many contacts outside the United States?

Music wise we do. Our first release, the "Ape Slayers & Kike Killers EP" 7" was released in Germany, on Die Hass Fabrik Records. The same guy also printed Platoon 14 t-shirts for us too. I get lots of mail from all over Europe and we've done loads of interviews for European skinhead magazines.

What kind of magazines do you enjoy reading the most?

Mostly skinhead related magazines. Blood & Honour is always good as long as they're in English. Also like gun magazines.

You do have quite an arsenal of your own I suppose?

Absolutely! Guns aren't illegal here YET? so you have to get as many as you can, while you still can. I'm making sure my family is safe. I have quite a collection of assault rifles, shotguns, and hand guns.

So are you guys married?

I'm married and have twin 3 years old boys, and Chris our drummer is married and has a 3 years old boy.

If so, maybe you'd like to give some tips on how to be a model husband or something for us kids here who want to start a family of our own?

I don't know that we're model husbands or parents, we just do our best. Just give them the love that Aryan woman and child deserve.

Come on, don't you have a specific tactic how to educate your sons into becoming mean killing Aryan machines or something you'd like to share? ;-)

Right now they are only 3 years old, but we teach them the difference between white people and bad black people. We buy them lots of toy guns too, to shoot the bad people (black people). When they get older, I'll teach them to shoot real guns and get them trained in martial arts.

OK, back to the band now, are we going to see you soon live on the old continent?

We really hope so. We don't have any plans as of right now though. We've had plenty of offers to play in Germany, but they never work it out 100%.

How often do you get to play in the States?

We've only played 7 shows that I can think of, and we're getting ready to play on January 17th in Philadelphia for the Keystone State Skinheads with Final War, and Blue Eyed Devils new band, Teardown.

What about the turn-out at a regular show there?

We've played for crowds of 60 through 300. It varies from show to show depending on how many bands are playing, location, and how private the shows are.

Is there much opposition to gigs there?

Not really. The Reds only show up when there is police presence to hide behind and protect them. Other wise they would never show up because we would stomp their little pathetic AIDS riddled bodies into the pavement. They do make phone calls sometimes to venues and hotels to try and get us kicked out. That works sometimes for them, but we always manage to find somewhere to have our shows.

What about punks?

We don't have any problem with punks. They're dirty little queers for the most part and don't want any trouble from us. Although, there is a new punk rocker band here in Florida called Forward Area, but they're NS kids. It's pretty cool, they look like the Exploited too, it's funny. They're a pretty good band too. They played with us at the last Halloween HateFest. We all grew up on punk rock, so we love the music.

I always wondered do skinheads in America have an alternative for Europe's football hooligans?

I don't think it's on the same level as the European hooligans, but there are a couple knuckleheads that go to soccer matches here. It's not really my thing, so I don't know much about it though. I don't really care for sports. Sports are full of niggers making millions of dollars and fucking white girls. Sports brainwash simple minded Americans. They think its ok for niggers to get the white girls.

No but really do you guys even play football (and I don't mean that American kind of rugby where players have to wear helmets and gay costumes:-))?

That's funny, I don't really play sports. I played football when I was real young, but not anymore. I'd rather stomp a nigger than play a game with him.

Yeah right, look how huge you are, that can't be only beer, can it?

LOL, no, just genetics, and some beer. We try to work out from time to time too. Ya need to be big so you can keep stompin Jews and niggers.

Well, what's your next move with the band?

We've recorded 3 songs for an upcoming 7" titled, Things I Hate EP. It should be out soon on Imperium records. We're about ready to record for our next full length CD as well, hopefully around February or March. Until then, we'll keep playing shows from time to time.

OK. Now we're done. Thanks & hails!

Hey thanks for the interview, this is definitely the best one we've done. We appreciate all of your help. Anyone interested in buying our stuff can get it from Imperium Records

500 years of Recollection

STEPHEN THE GREAT

King of Moldavia 1457 - 1504

Vlad Dracula is beyond doubt the best known ruler in the entire history of the Romanian people. His fame however is mostly due to Bram Stoker's novel "Dracula", an entertaining piece of gothic fiction, but nothing more. Back in his day, Vlad's reputation albeit great, was overshadowed by that of his cousin, Stephen the Great, Voivode of Moldavia. Stephen's 47 year long reign was the longest in Romanian history save the one of King Charles I (1866-1914), and his achievements, be they political, military, cultural or economic, have remained unparalleled ever since. Never was a territory inhabited by Romanians as prosperous, as stable and politically strong as Stephen's Moldavia and never was a Romanian ruler as respected and feared as was Stephen himself.

"Just as the ancient Greeks had the Age of Pericles – the summit of their political and cultural achievements – we Romanians had the Age of Stephen the Great" once said the reputed Romanian historian Constantin Giurescu (who was poisoned by the communist secret service after refusing to write a glorifying history of Ceausescu's activity).

In the 1350's, King Louis of Hungary made several expeditions against the Mongolian tribes on the East of the Dneestr river, and formed the March of Moldavia for defensive purposes, between the Carpathians and the Dneestr. The first Markgrave was Dragos, followed by his son Balc. In 1359, Bogdan of Cuhea, a Transylvanian noble, quarreled with the King of Hungary and crossed the mountains where he was greeted as liberator by the population. He defeated Balc and became Voievod of Moldavia, leader of a sovereign state. After his death in 1365, his son and his daughter's son set the foundations of the new state, consolidating its position in the area. Peter Musat (Musat was the name of the ruling family, including Stephen's) signed defensive treaties with Poland and Wallachia and ensured that Moldavia was safe from Hungarian aggression. His son

Roman I enlarged the country southwards to the Black Sea, and in 1395, a first military success was achieved by Stephen I who crushed the forces of Sigismund of Hungary at Ghindăoani. It was during the peaceful reign of Alexander the Good (1400-1432) that full stability was achieved, as well as international credibility. Alexander honoured his alliance with Poland supplying troops for the wars against the Teutonic Order in 1410 and 1422. But it was also his lack of foresight that was to prove Moldavia's doom in the next decades. Alexander had seven sons with various wives, and after his death, 25 years of civil strife followed, with the country being systematically torn apart by the various pretenders and the powers (Polish, Hungarians and Wallachians) that stood behind them. In 1451, Bogdan II (Alexander's illegitimate son and Stephen's father) was ambushed and murdered by his half-brother Peter Aron and the 16 year-old Stephen barely escaped with his life and took refuge in Transylvania and later in Wallachia.

Bogdan's wife and Stephen's mother was Maria, sister to Vlad's mother and thus Stephen found refuge in Wallachia until 1457, when, with a small army provided by Vlad and a few nobles loyal to his father, he entered Moldavia and defeated Peter Aron at Doljesti. He was later crowned by the Moldavian Metropolitan and treaties were quickly signed with Poland and Hungary in order to prevent their backing up of Peter Aron, now a fugitive in Transylvania. The first years of his reign were less than glorious, since the newly acquired rulership had to be consolidated. Stephen recognized himself as vassal of the Polish King Kazimir in order to secure the friendship of his most powerful neighbour while he dealt with Peter Aron's supporters in the interior.

During 1460 and 1461, Stephen launched several raids in Transylvania to capture Peter Aron, who then took refuge at the court of Matthias Corvinus, King of Hungary, who decided to use him as a means to pressure Stephen. Matthias's refuse to hand over Peter Aron as well as Stephen's friendship with Poland led to relations between the two countries to deteriorate, and Stephen attacked Chilia (an important harbour and citadel at the Black Sea) in 1461. The city had been given to the Hungarians in exchange of military support by one of Alexander's incompetent sons, but Stephen's first siege was not successful. However, he managed to take the city with the help of artillery (the first time its use has been recorded in Moldavia) in 1464. In 1466, Romanians in Transylvania revolted against the Hungarian rule, and Stephen sent them help. This made Matthias invade Moldavia in December 1467 in order to place Peter Aron on the throne. The Hungarians advanced well into Moldavian territory, but Matthias, seeing no resistance was offered, stopped to celebrate Christmas. Stephen attacked the Hungarian camp from three sides at night, causing terrible losses and panic. Matthias was wounded, but could not escape, while most of his host were killed or captured. Stephen chased the remnants of the Hungarian army way into Transylvania and managed to capture Peter Aron, who was promptly put to death, Stephen thus avenging his father and removing the last internal menace to his rule.

Having secured internal stability and Poland's friendship, and knowing that Matthias' ambitions were momentarily broken, Stephen now was free to dedicate himself to what he regarded as his greatest task: fighting the ever increasing Ottoman menace in the south. Peter Aron had been the first Moldavian ruler to pay tribute to the Sultans, and Stephen continued to pay it while his power was not yet consolidated, but now time had come to change that, especially since Mehmed II was caught up with revolts in Persia. Stephen's first intention was to wrestle Turkish control of Wallachia, which was at the time ruled by Vlad Dracula's younger brother, Radu the Handsome. Unlike his brother, Radu was the loyal subject of Mehmed, with whom it is said that he used to have even sexual affairs during the time he had spent in Adrianople and later Istanbul. Stephen knew that without Wallachia as a base to launch their attacks from, the Ottomans would find it very hard to menace Moldavia, so in 1470, Stephen crosses into Wallachia and razes several strongholds that hosted Turkish garrisons. As a response, the Turks convince the Tartars to invade Moldavia from the East, which they do, but Stephen crushes their hordes at Lipnic in August 1470. He had the Khan's son put to death and when Tartar emissaries were sent to take his body back, Stephen decided on a show of force and had 99 of them impaled, only one being sent back with his answer. Having dealt with the mongoloids in the only way they were able to comprehend, he was now free to prepare for the imminent Turkish response counter-offensive.

In 1471, with substantial Turkish help, Radu invaded Moldavia, but he was utterly crushed by Stephen at Soci. In 1473, Stephen decided to replace Radu altogether, so he took with him a pretender loyal to him and invaded Wallachia with the precise purpose of transforming it into a buffer state, loyal to him and the anti-Ottoman cause. Stephen crushes Radu yet again in a pitched battle, after which he conquers his capital and captures both the treasury and the family of the Wallachian prince. An attempt by the Turks stationed on the Danube to restore the situation is utterly defeated, 13000 Turks being killed and 2300 captured and impaled.

After installing Basarab the Old as prince in Wallachia, Stephen returns to Moldavia, but the Turks come back, have Radu enthroned again and raid Southern Moldavia. In 1474, Stephen once again invades his southern neighbour, defeats Radu and his Citoman allies and has Basarab re-instated as Voievod. Radu takes refuge in Transylvania where he will die the same year.

Basarab however, soon changed sides as he was lulled by Turkish gold. Stephen invaded again, this time with another pretender, and defeated Basarab the Old who ran across the Danube to the safety of the Ottoman Empire.

Mehmed II finally decided to teach the impudent Moldavian a lesson and had Suleyman, the Beylerbey of Rumelia, invade Moldavia in 1475 and bring it under Turkish rule. At the head of 120 000 men (including Wallachian reinforcements), Suleyman entered Moldavia in January 1475. On the 10th, Stephen met him in battle with his 35 000 men, among whom a few Hungarians and Szeklers were to be found, at a place called Vaslui, after having scorched the earth in front of the invader for a few weeks. The battle ended in total disaster for the Turks, and was probably Stephen's most brilliant victory. Stephen had led from the front as he knew that personal example and superior leadership were vital when facing such odds, and his valour, both tactical and personal, were much praised by chroniclers as Jan Dlugosz or even the Turk Seadedin. Very few Turks managed to escape across the Danube, and great was Mehmed's wrath when he learned of such crushing a defeat, the worst inflicted upon the Ottomans since Ankara in 1402. Stephen's victory meant a glorious achievement, but the end of the conflict was still far. In 1475, Mehmed II conquered Mangop (where Stephen's brother-in-law, Alexandros Paleologos, was ruler). The Tartars were roused as well and the Wallachians gathered another army. Realizing the danger to come, Stephen quickly made peace with Hungary and asked for help in the West. The Pope congratulated him, so did many Western rulers, but none sent help. In 1476, Mehmed invaded Moldavia at the head of 150 000 Turks and 15 000 Wallachians, and the Tartars invaded from the East. Stephen could not forbid his men to defend their homes against the Mongol raiders, so he had to face the Turkish horde with only his household forces and a few mercenaries, Hungarian help did not come. The battle took place at Războieni in July 1476, and, in spite of a valiant resistance, the Moldavians were defeated. Since most of the army was made up by nobles and their retainers, they fought with great loyalty, but a huge number of Moldavia's ruling class were wiped out. The enemy had also taken heavy casualties, but continued their advance. However, the Conqueror of Constantinople could not take Suceava, the Moldavian capital, nor any of the important cities. The scorched earth policy worked well, and, soon, the Turks found themselves cut off in hostile territory, with virtually no progress made. The country held, in spite of

As the weather worsened, an epidemic started to wreak havoc among the Turks and Mehmed ordered the retreat south, especially since the Hungarian help was rumoured to arrive soon. The campaign resembles Napoleon's invasion of Russia.

The retreat slowly turned into a rout as Moldavians harassed the exhausting horde, and Stephen finally attacked when the Turks passed the Danube, killing a great many and capturing a huge amount of treasure and weapons. The Moldavian Voievod had managed to turn defeat into victory and the country was saved. But the toll upon it had been terrible. The nobility had suffered immense losses, the crops had been burnt, rivers had been poisoned, the East had been partially ravaged by the Tartars and the South and Center by the Turks, even if the prisoners taken by them had been freed. Immediately after the defeat of Mehmed, Stephen crossed into Wallachia and brought with him someone whom he was sure would not side with the Turks: none other than Vlad Dracula himself. But alas, one month later, the Wallachian prince was betrayed by the boyars and killed. The guard left by Stephen fought to the last, but they were overwhelmed. This was a blow to Stephen's hopes, but neither side had any energy and resources for another campaign. Some years of peace followed and the country was rebuilt and could again prosper. A very large number of monasteries were built during these years, and many trade privileges were awarded to the Transylvanians and Poles, which led to the gradual economical and cultural development of Moldavia.

Mehmed II died in 1481 and with him died Stephen's greatest enemy. The same year, Stephen makes one last attempt to have a protégé of his installed on the Wallachian throne, in the person of Vlad the Monk (Dracula's son). He defeats Basarab the Young and Vlad becomes ruler of Wallachia, but he too would side with the Turks in 1484, when Bayazid II captures Chilia and Akerman from the Moldavians.

Poland and Hungary make peace with Bayazid in 1483, Venice had also made peace in 1479, and Wallachia constantly changed its allegiance. Once more, in 1485, he defeated a large Turkish force at Catlabuga, but no help came from any of the Western nations. Stephen was disappointed with his allies and he himself decided to make peace with Bayazid, agreeing to pay a formal tribute (eight times less than what Wallachia was paying).

A decade of peace followed, marred only by skirmishes with Poland in the late 1480's. It was indeed Moldavia's golden age, as the economy and culture flourished under Stephen's patronage. Matthias Corvinus died in 1490, Kazimir of Poland in 1492. But a new political context arised, and Moldavia was again in danger. The Jagello dynasty ruled over Poland through John Albert, and now over Hungary (after the death of Matthias) through Wladislaw, as well as Lithuania, through Alexander, all of them brothers and the sons of King Kazimir, recently deceased. A fourth brother Sigismund, had no land to rule upon, but his brothers thought that Moldavia was an option, so Poland prepared for an invasion with the purpose of dethroning Stephen. In 1497, John Albert crossed the border pretending he was going to fight the Ottomans in the South, but instead laid siege to the Moldavian capital. The city, however, did not fall. Stephen raised his forces, and with reinforcements from Wallachia (now an ally since peace with the Ottomans had been signed) prepared to attack the disheartened Poles. But the King of Hungary (brother of John Albert, but on good terms with Stephen) intervened and mediated a peace. The Polish army was to retreat on the same way it came (so the rest of the country was spared the pillage and rapine inherent to the passing of a foreign army) and as quick as possible. But John Albert broke the agreement and took another route, hoping at least to carry as much loot as he could from this expedition. For this, Stephen had him ambushed in a forest, where the Polish host was literally decimated, John Albert narrowly escaping death. The next year, Stephen led a punitive raid into Pocutia, and annexed much of the province, taking great booty.

The last years of his reign were peaceful, the country and the people prospered, and when he died in 1504 he was deeply mourned by the entire nation. From the small state humiliating itself under Alexander's sons to any power who was able to bring another pretender, Stephen had turned Moldavia into a regional power in its own right, respected by friend and foe alike, treated as an equal by the great kingdoms and empires around it.

GREATER MOLDOVA

Stefan the Great addressing the nobles who pretended the throne while he was dying:

MOLDAVIA WASN'T MINE, THE SAME IT WASN'T YOUR, NOR WAS IT THE FOREFATHERS OF OUR FOREFATHERS', BUT IT BELONGS TO THE HEIRS OF OUR HEIRS.

How did you take the news when your girlfriend told you she was expecting?

Hehehe!! Curiously we had been trying to have a baby for the last two months. We thought we didn't need to be married for being parents and forming a family, but only needed love.

After two months of trying, her period didn't come so we bought a pregnancy test. She made the test but she was too nervous to see the result, so I took it and saw myself the result positive. So it was actually me who told her that she was expecting!!!

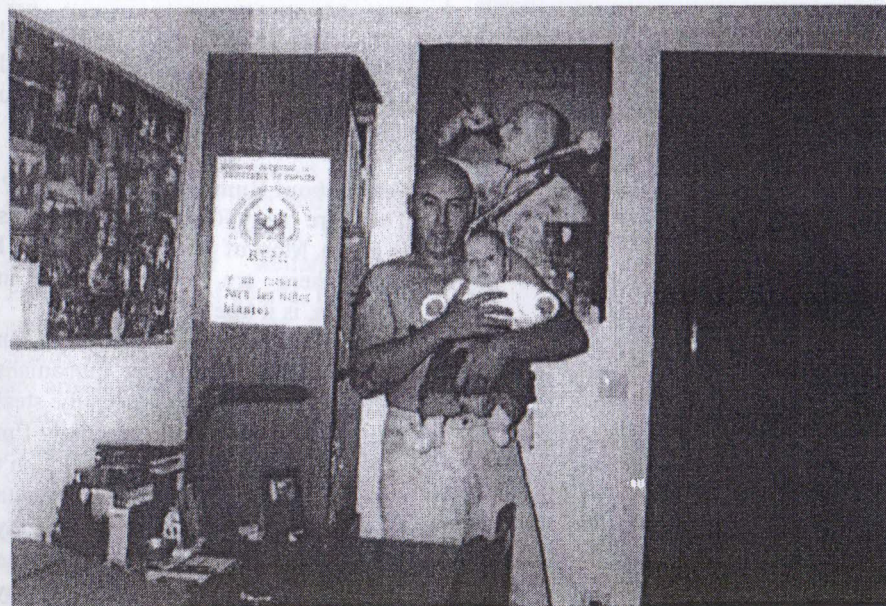

What do you feel now that you've at long last become the father of a baby boy?

I feel I have an important responsibility. I was present when my little boy was born and was a marvellous experience. Our child is really an important responsibility, as I already told you. I'm working hard to make money because I need to keep my family and the flat. I also do extra jobs for making money to keep my magazine, envelopes, stamps etc... I can tell you I have two different economies.

How much of a parent can a skinhead be?

A skinhead can be best of parents, I think. Of course, I must sacrifice some things as going to concerts, travelling, spending money on CDs and going to pubs, but my child gives me special satisfaction. I decided, for example, to cut down on alcohol, so I can save money and my child will never see his father drunk, do you understand me? Also, I think alcohol is enemy of a real NS activist.

NS skinheads base must be the family, we must form our NS families, I think skinhead must be an example of the society we wish for. Unfortunately many skinheads don't think the same. I can give you an example. I'm a simple man, an ordinary skinhead, but all neighbours and people who know me, respect me and my ideal/way of life, because my behaviour is correct, so my skinhead aesthetic don't affect my diary life.

Is it usual for skinheads in Spain to raise a family?

OK. It isn't usual among us. I know around 10-12 skinheads who formed a family and have children. But the reason of it is that most skinheads leave our movement and aesthetic when find a wife and a baby is born. But also the most of them are still involved in nationalist parties or NS associations. It's everybody's choice but I think that being a skinhead is not a problem for having children or getting married.

To what extent will your role so far in the movement change because roughly speaking you now have one more mouth to feed?

My role, my activism in skinhead movement doesn't have to change while I still have my mind and hands. Skinhead movement is not a club, I'll always be involved in our fight for a free Europe and our white power/NS cause. I'll have more or less time, money, or will, but our fight is a responsibility as high as being a parent. Do you understand me? To feed my son is not a problem while I have hands to work!!!

Is it hard to find a well-paid job there?

I don't think it's difficult to have a good job in Spain. It depends on where you live. In the south of Spain you can get about 600-1000 Euros in a normal job, but of course if you live in the North of Spain, you can get more money for the same job, but anything else is cheaper in the South than in the North.

Normally to find a good job is not difficult, difficult is to keep up the job. Spanish businessmen and manager only want to have serious and responsible workers, that is enough.

Whom do you have to put up with the most for being a skinhead in Spain?

Well, if you are a skinhead in Spain, everybody has a bad opinion about you, that's for sure!! Politics and media spread many shit and rubbish about Spanish skinhead movement.

I think a skinhead should be a model person and not stupid, to show skinhead pride and no NS/racial compromise. If you are a bad example for society, than of course society will think NS racial fight and skinhead movement is not good. Do you understand me?

What about Rumanian immigrants?

There are many Rumanian immigrants in Spain. Most of them are not white! I think there are many gypsies in Rumania, is it true?

Many skinheads here hate Rumanian immigrants because many Rumanians here are delinquents, especially steal from houses, cars etc... Personally I'm a NS skinhead and a racist, I don't have a problem if a white Rumanian comes here to work, if they really work. Ukrainians, Russians and Rumanian immigrants live in my village and they are good people but I only want white people in my country; race is the most important thing for me because our common nation is Europe.

Is Spain still a racially aware country?

The Spanish people is not interested in racial fight. Our citizens don't think white, most of people only care about having more and more money, go to disco, drink, take drugs, and fuck, fuck, fuck! Their minds are corrupted by capitalism and liberalism, which tells them comfort life is happiness, and the rest is not important.

There are about 2,500,000 non-whites here, more than 800,000 gypsies who are incorrectly considered Spanish, and about 40,000 Jews. We still have time to keep Spain white and also Europe. This is a white land!!! I won't fold my arms while our land is invaded by monkeys and rats.

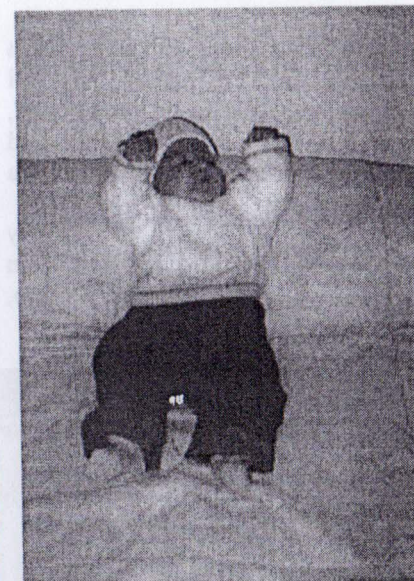

What consequence did the Moorish occupation and underway immigration have on the racial records in Spain?

Morocco is a grain in Spanish ass!! Officially 2,500,000 moors live in Europe but 20% are poor and 500,000 live by 2 US dollars per day. Who will ensure for their welfare? Our European people, of course. Hundreds and hundreds of Moors cross the Straits of Gibraltar every day, some are arrested but the rest run free in our land.

Spanish people know moors are not good workers, but trouble-makers, they steal, murder etc. I can tell you about thousands of facts, recently three Moors killed a white man and stole 100 Euro. They spent the money on whores!! White people are killed by Moors every week. That's why most of the Spaniards do not mix with Moors, and there are no jobs for Moors in many places. Sometime ago Huelva's businessmen decided to hire workers from Poland, Rumania and Hungary to pick up strawberry crop, which is a good idea because after the harvest, those white workers return back to their countries. So Moorish immigrants attack and steal from East European workers. Moorish scum, go home!

How many skinheads are there?

Pffft.. Recently I read a newspaper report about this and they say the number is about 10,000 - 20,000 skinheads. But personally I can tell you there are about 4-5 thousands of serious and active NS skinheads and about three or four skinhead organisations. Also, there are many active NS militants who are not skinheads and good NS non-skinhead organisations as CEI (IndoEuropean Studies Center) or NSR (Social Republican Movement) in which are involved many militants and also are supported by skinheads.

There are some right-wing and nationalist parties like DN (National Democracy), in which there are many skin members, also Alliance for National Unity is also supported by skins. And finally there is the old party Falange Espanola founded in the 30's.

I can also tell you that in big cities like Valencia, Barcelona etc., there are young people whose minds are confused and wear skinhead clothes, but take drugs, dance on techno and at the same time are racists, they call themselves "nacional bakaleios", similar to "gabbers" in Belgium and Holland. We hate them and they are a small minority.

As for SHARPs and red skins, they aren't numerous, but are strong in cities and areas like Pais Vasco, Cataluna, Madrid and Galicia.

Where do football hooligans stand as part of the Spanish movement?

Football hooligans have been and still are an important part of Spanish skinhead movement. I think 80% of skinheads here support a football fan club.

"Ultrasur" Real Madrid fans and "Brigadas Blauquiazules" of RCD Espanol fans have a strong number of skinheads, but there also exist many right-wing and skinhead groups in other football supporter teams: "Frente Bokeron" in Malaga, "Frente Atletico" in Madrid which is not made only of skins, and also in other cities like Valladolid, Salamanca, Zaragoza, Barcelona etc.

Recently has been published a book called "Diario de un skin" in which a journalist tells how he infiltrated in "Ultrasur" hooligans group for a whole year. He wrote about violence and connection between hooligans, skinhead scene and right-wing and nationalist parties. He exposes names of skins, organisations etc., the tv and the press talked about this book for many days.

But personally I don't like football and don't support any hooligan group...

How about your local scene in Alcala la Real?

Ha, ha, ha! Alcala la Real has about 20,000 citizens and I'm the only skinhead here!! It's sad! There are six or seven more persons who support nationalist parties, but that's all.

At 60 kms from Alcala la Real there are cities and villages where can be about 40-50 skinheads, such as Jaen, Granada, Cabra, Lucena etc. I organised two skinhead meetings last year to which came about 30-40 skins from those several cities.

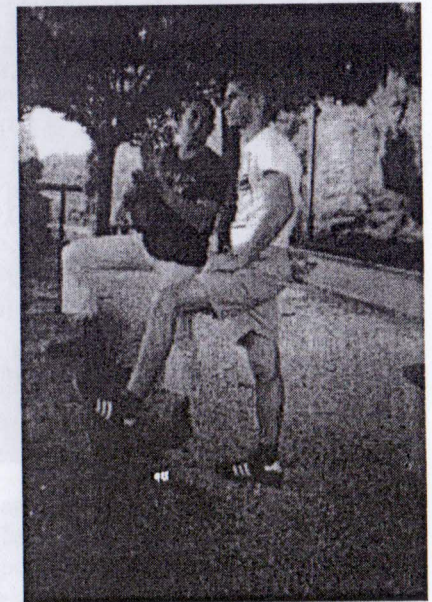

Let's pretend I am tourist. Why should I visit your city?

Because you must personally meet me, ha ha ha! Well, Alcala la Real has been a strategic place during the reconquest of Spain from the Moorish rule, during Napoleonic war (1808-1812) and also in the Civil War (1936-1939). The city has archaeological sites from Iberian and Roman civilisations, has a well conserved castle of re-conquer age and beautiful natural places. Alcala la real is situated near Sierra Nevada where lies the highest mountain in Spain, where snow lasts for 9 months. Also, it is near Granada and Malaga beach, two hours drive and you're in the Mediterranean Sea. Really, Alcala la Real is a nice place with good and quite, calm people, also good and cheap drink and food.

Jaen is the area of Europe where there are the most castles and fortifications because during 1212-1492 it was the frontier between Christian and Moorish areas. Jaen is also the most important olive oil and olive growing area in the world, it should be interesting to visit an olive factory. The best time to visit in Autumn or Spring.

OK, any future plans you'd like to share?

Well, NSWP SS mag has an edition of 200 copies, I would like more and more comrades to read it and I want to make a better issues each time. Time will show. I'm open to any cooperation with NSWP organisations, magazines, bands etc.. because Unity is Victory!

This is it, Poli. Thank you for the interview. If you'd like to add something else, be my guest...

КОЛОВРАТ

What's going to happen with "Kolovrat" now that Denis is arrested in the Czech Republic and is most likely going to be convicted?

At the moment, "Kolovrat" began to practice without Denis, the band was the main goal of Denis' life; he dedicated all his time to the band, so "Kolovrat" must live. We hope that Denis will get free after the trial, but during this period the band must continue to play. We cannot bury the band. We will not invite any new members to the band, some of musicians will take vocals; looks like it will be our keys/bass player M.

Have the rest of the members of the band been harassed by local authorities in Russia, because of Denis' situation in Prague?

Fortunately, no; till the moment at least. But everything could happen, in our crazy world we can wait for any kind of shit from the side of ZOG, anytime and anywhere.

How about his family?

Denis' family consisted of his wife Lena, 2-years-old daughter Dasha, his mother and grandmother. Denis was the only one in family who brought money to home. So, now we try to do our best to help them and support in these hard days.

All things considered, do you mean Denis' arrest didn't make the headlines in your country?

At the beginning, mass media tried to hide this info. Our friends from "Movement against Illegal Immigration" sent this news to 200 different medias, nobody wanted at the beginning to publish it. But of course, biggest "Russian" Jewish portal sem40.ru printed it with big pleasure... After that, several newspapers wrote articles about "evil Nazi, arrested in Prague". Also there was single TV report in criminal program. But in general, Russian society did not pay any attention. What about NS movement - this news became known to every NS in Russia during couple of days.

Does one have to deal with the cops very often for being a National Socialist skinhead in Russia anyway?

Well, if I understand you in right way, nobody of us had ever dealt with the system.

As for any other problems with law... Our bass player Grigory was arrested in 1997 for double-murder and got 22 years in prison.

Main problems appeared after 2 November 2002, when cops stormed ISD Memorial in Moscow suburbs. After that, some band members were several times ordered for "talking" to special police department, but the result was zero. No any collaboration with the system!

However it looks like Russia and the entire ex-Soviet block for that matter, is somewhat safe area for skinhead movement to develop, including bands, gigs, zines etc?
Russia becomes more and more police state, that's fact. Here's no place for skinheads. Here's even no place for anybody, who is a little bit different from zombie mass of ordinary population. State oppresses everybody - from Communists to ultra Liberals, from NS to anarchists. State needs nobody, who thinks in different way. NS movement is in deep underground in Russia, although the Movement is very numerous, we have comrades in every state of our Motherlands.

What do the common people think about skinheads?

Not so easy question... Same as in other counties, majority of population is totally brainwashed by media, that's the fact. So, they think in same way - "skinheads are evil scum, pervert bastards; they spread only hate and kill innocent people". Needed to say that skins are also a little bit guilty in this opinion; especially, because of some really stupid actions of very young skinheads. Media made great advertisement for skinheads here, common people even don't want to know about NS ideology, they know main thing – "skinheads are terrible". Same time, I really see the growing of patriotic / nationalist feelings, and that's very good. What about NS – many people, who are patriots or even white racist, same time don't accept words "national socialism", they begin to connect it with Hitler. Well, stereotypes from Soviet time and of course memory about millions fallen in Brother War are strong. But also I understand, let they think what they want about Hitler, but as far as they are in reality with same beliefs that NS have – they are "ours", it's our people. Time will show... I hope, that one day my Folk will stop to suffer, will take the weapons and together with all other White Nations will get out all scum from our Holy European Soil.

All in all, do you think skinheads can be a real threat to the system after all?

Skinheads as youth subculture were, are and will be forever the problem for any system. Skinheads don't follow official rules, they have something like own world with own rules. I haven't ever heard about any skinhead, that follows the rules and respects the state, and no matter what a skinhead is it – real skinhead (NS or nationalist or at least patriot), or so called left wing "skinhead". Any of them are enemies of state, maybe except un-political alcoholics.

But same time, there's a problem as skinheads are not organized with leader, organization etc. If all NS skinheads will pay more attention on NS, soon they will understand the need of unity and organized work and fight for our Cause. Till we are not united in one common powerful fist, the state wins.

How many real active skins can be found in your area and what do their efforts consist of?

I think, that we have in Moscow nearly 500 active skinheads, and up to 10000 of youngsters who call themselves "skins" and more or less are involved.

Everybody does his part of activity – somebody played in musical band, somebody involved in releasing propaganda music, some peoples are in political parties, and of course many skins are involved in street fights.

Is football important?

Well, every kind of sport is important as training tool.

Maybe, you mean more "football hooligans". What can I say? Many of them support NS movement, that's the fact. For us football hooligans are interesting in this case.

But same time, we see now negative tendency. Some hooligans understood that fighting immigrant is too dangerous, so they decided better to fight each other what is not so big crime. That's real problem.

How often can you set up gigs and meetings in Moscow?

Not so often, especially last 3 years. Till the summer of 2000, we had official gigs in Moscow every 2 months. After riot with police at our gig at 28 June 2000, NS gigs are unofficially prohibited. Now all gigs in Moscow are held with great conspiracy level. We try to play in Moscow at least several times per year. In 2003, "Kolovrat" played 32 gigs; many of them were ballad evening. To organize ballad gig is much easier.

How about the audience?

I need to point, that audience has more discipline now; we don't have fights and drunken idiots in hall usually. That's because of conspiracy with organizing gigs. Same time, very negative point is that youngsters cannot visit WP concerts, because they simply don't know when and where they are placed.

What are the main skinhead organisations in Russia?

We don't have "Main Russian" organization. "B&H" existed in Moscow (and in Saint-Petersburg and Rostov-on-Don also) since some years. We have very powerful domestic Moscow skinhead brigade, I'd better not name them. In many cities are local skinhead brigades.

How do you get along with so called NSBM activists?

Actually, we cooperate very well. Sadly not as good as in Ukraine or Poland where skinheads and black metal heads are united in common NS movement. We need all possible ways in propaganda of NS views, style of music or clothing isn't important in this case.

What do Russians, both common people and skinheads, think about the Chechen War?

Not so easy topic. First of all, needed to pick historical fact – this land (Chechnya) is Russian soil; our ancestors during centuries spilled their blood for it. Chechens are a nation came from mountains of Caucasus, historically they lived only on small part of today's Chechnya, and they always were "problem" nation, very wild, they were robbers of domestic population. Can you imagine, till 19th century they even did not have Alphabet?

We're full of respect for Russian soldiers who fight there for Russian soil. "Problem" is that today's war is ruled by corrupted government, they follow their own financial and political interest in this war. Chechnya is rich of oil region, so politics and big business play their own game. Russian soldiers actually die there for interest of ZOG. If needed, Russian army can solve Chechen problem in couple of days covered the whole Chechnya with napalm. Chechen problem will end after last Chechen will die, that's the fact. Our politics cannot understand this simple thing, crying about humanism and that "not all Chechens are bad".

We have problem of Chechen terrorism. But same time this terrorism is successfully used by our government. Terror acts usually happen in "needed" time, for example before elections of President. Same thing was in 1999, when Putin waited for elections to become President. Suddenly Chechen horde invaded some cities in Dagestan (another Caucasian region of Russia), brave premier minister began a war against "evil terrorists", got total popularity and won the elections. Now is the same thing. I'm personally more than sure, that at least half of those terror acts are made by ZOG in their own interests. So, problem is not so easy, as it looks out.

Do you exert your democratic right to vote and why?

Ha-ha-ha, really funny questions, when you're not into Russian reality. "Democracy" is just a nice word, nothing more here. No matter how you vote, main this is how votes are counted. We boycott all elections here and always try to call our listeners to the same thing. There's totally no chance that really right wing candidate will even take part in elections, and of course he will never "win".

How about the rest of Russia?

Moscow and the rest of Russia are like 2 different states. 90% of money is in Moscow; more or less we have in Moscow different level of life. For example, salary on Moscow is nearly 600-700 dollars, while in the rest of Russian millions people live only for 100-150 maximum. Sometimes the whole city could be owned and rules by mafia, usually Caucasian.

As for the Movement – we are everywhere; of course in big cities Movement is more "professional". As for the elections – needed to point, that on small elections in small cities is really possible to win for right wing candidate.

Maybe, some of your have watched TV reports or read articles about Russian inside politics. All this is "game for public", nothing more. Russian politic is cooperation and same time inner fighting of different mafia clans. There is no any honest people; maybe with only few exceptions.

In general, situation here is really catastrophic; if nothing will change in nearest years – it will be total death.

Is there any main-stream party that Russian skinheads support?

No any main-stream party, to be honest. There're several right wing parties, almost very small and without any real power or chances to win any elections. Well, that all was said above. Democratic system will never let real opposition to get into power. Also I'd like to mention "Movement against Illegal Immigration", they try to act on legal basis, they never talk about Aryans; they use only "illegal immigration" as official motto. Maybe, that is what needed. Time will show.

Back to the band now before we end, what's the next step for your crew?

Work, work and again work. We will continue the band and all our activities, and we'll do our best to keep them on same level. At the moment, the band prepares for studio to release a CD in support of Denis, maybe that way we'll raise some funds to help him and his family.

How is our National Treasure doing in Moscow? Still there?

Ha-ha, looks like you're the first, who tell me that. I never heard in school about that, so I really feel myself very sorry that I cannot answer this question. Maybe in Moscow, but be sure – this is not Russian nation who own it now.

Big thanks C. for this opportunity to get some known for Romanian NS activists. Hail Russian-Romanian friendship!

In 1916, WW1, Rumania's capital Bucharest was captured by the Central Powers, while the remaining defeated Army and the Royal Court retreated to Moldova province. Our "good Russian friends and allies" offered their help so the National Thesaurus, made of tons of archives, art, jewels, money, gold etc., was moved to Moscow for "safe-keeping". The odds would change and Rumania won the war and took back Transylvania from Austro-Hungary and all other eastern historical provinces from the Russians, but the Soviets would only return a small part of the Thesaurus later in 1956, when Rumania had already a communist regime, and eastern lands would fall again in Russian's hands, the rest of the treasure would never be recovered. After the 1989 Revolution, the social-democrat party, made mostly of ex-commies, signed a treaty with Russia on the condition Rumania doesn't demand the rest of its treasure back. But we never forget!

BELOSLAVA KREW

Please introduce yourself and brief me up on Beloslava crew background.

Hello. My name is Y. and I am an activist of Beloslava, also I am the webmaster of our web-page (www.beloslava.org).

Our organization is quite young, but fast developing. We have gathered in July of 2003 in Kharkov-one of the Ukrainian largest cities. And I think that since the time of our creation we have managed to do some useful things for our race and nation. Members of Beloslava are white people who haven't forgotten their roots, traditions and origin, we are those people who don't want to "stand and watch them taking our freedom away". Main aims of our movement are shown in our motto: "...For Survival Of Race, Revival Of Nation, In The Name Of Justice."

What kind of people form your organisation?

Our organization unites people of different ages (age of our members varies from 16 to 36 years), professions (some of us are students, but main part of people in organization work) and sexes (we also have some girls in our ranks). All members of BELOSLAVA somehow or other earlier were connected with a nearfootball culture, and a lot of us still love this great game. All in all I can describe us as stirring people who are not indifferent to a fate of their land.

Now that you mentioned it, how good is your local team and how do the terraces look like?

The most professional football team in Kharkiv is "FC Metalist". Quite a lot of rightwing people support this team and it has a couple of hooligan firms. It is so pity that even "Metalist" plays now in a first league-a year ago it was a team of the highest league. I think that next year "Metallist" would be again in the highest league because of jubilee of our city-next year Kharkiv will celebrate 350 years since foundation and coaches, players, managers of "Metallist" would do everything to win. About our ground, I would say that they are not very good, of course our stadium is quite large, but it is worse than stadiums in Kiev, Dnepropetrovsk and some other Ukrainian cities.

As I said earlier there are some hooligan firms in our city and some our members have taken part in them before we were organized.

Main activities of Kharkiv hooligans are trips to another cities where they fight with police and local fans. They make troubles in the stadiums and in the streets.

Last big trouble on my memory in Kharkiv was in autumn when two Kharkiv teams "Arsenal" and "Metalist" played on one field. This day there were a lot of fiers, fights, also one new player of Metalist who was a nigger was beaten by our hools. In this match not only supporters were fighting but football-players too, one team against another and I had such feeling that it was not a football but maybe boxing:))

The most old and main opponents of our hooligans are hools from Dnepropetrovsk team "Dnipro". This is an old resistance which goes to times of 80-s and few generations of supporters had changed since that time. "Dnipro" supporters are also rightwing and I really don't see any reasons to fight with them, also I think that we have too many enemies and we mustn't fight with one another.

What's your main field of action?

Main field of our action is connected with propaganda. Our aim is to open the eyes of white people about what is going on and make them stand up and fight for their rights on their own land. Organizing concerts, printing leaflets and stickers, making web-pages and magazines are ways of our fight. And of course, we don't forget "some things" which white "very active people" usually do. I think you understood me:)))

Can you please let the readers in on your latest engagements?

Our latest engagement ("engagements" I think means "fight"&"trouble"?) was with so-called antifa scum (it was yesterday). You know, antifa in our city is look like a snow man, because all heard about them, but no one have seen. Also, we saw their stickers "beat skinheads", leaflets "say fuck to the fascism", and even there was a zine dedicated to Kharkiv rock&roll music where they published articles which promoted race mixtion, drugs, s.h.a.r.p. and r.a.s.h. skinheads lifestyle, fighting against "grey danger" and other things which were directed to make degenerates from young white people. We wanted to end their actions, but we don't know how to find them, and suddenly we heard that they celebrate a birthday of their magazine in a new music pub, which I think had a suitable name for their gig (this pub called "Churchill"). Some our people including me came to pub as scouts to find out who are they and how many they are. We saw several people in t-shirts of antifa group "distemper", some half-niggers, some jews, armenians and a yellow-skinned barmen, of course there were some simple white people who only came for a rock concert to spare their free time, later they realized that this pub is not a very good and safe place:)). Then, we acquainted with authors of this zine, they were so kind that they even presented a new issue of their magazine to us. After that we divided and started pasting our stickers "FUCK YOU S.H.A.R. P's.", when this part of work was done we went out of a club and came to a pub "....." where were our main forces, then we ran to a "Cherchill" and started to force in it. So, you realize how pleasant was to see faces of antifa when a group of a people shouting S...h! is forcing to their club?!:)). When we got inside, antifa shouted: We have nothing done to you! Ukraine is a free country! Why do you came to our home?! Call the militia(police)! You know, I saw for the first time in my life when a guy(so I think this is a bad word for him, maybe "gay"?) is hiding behind the back of a girl!!! This faggots was so scared that after all they promised not to publish such articles. So, I think that this time we had quite a successful Sunday evening.:))

But what about the cops?

There were no problems with cops because of our latest engagement because we done all well and quick. As organization we haven't had any problems with cops because our main field of action is legal and officially we don't break Ukrainian laws, but of course, some people in movement had such problems, especially last time. Kharkiv is a city with a great amount of cops and a lot of people say that Kharkiv is a "cops city", so white patriots there must act very careful. Also, till the last concert we haven't had problems with organizing concerts, but not long ago cops attacked a club where our concert was held. It was very good that we managed to finish our gig to that time and they were late for about half an hour, but even so, it was not very pleasant to hear about such events in our city. Of course, we don't have such problems with concerts as Russian comrades, when more than a half of concerts are attacked and cancelled, but maybe, this will take place in our city some years later too. Now it is quite calm and we could set up gigs, so we must use this time for developing our movement and official propaganda, but bad times are coming for white patriots all over the world and our country is not an exception. Every day we feel more and more oppression from the side of government, but as said Nietzsche: "That which doesn't kill us make us stronger", so we must fight until the end.

To what extent does religion have to do with Beloslava membership?

All members of Beloslava confess ancient believes of our ancestors that some people call "paganism". We call this "Rodnoverie"(Native Religion) and we see in it spiritual basis of our folk. We celebrate our traditional holidays and organize lectures on subjects of Native Slavonic Religion, which appeals to wide range of people. We think that revival of national and survival of race are closely connected with resuscitating of ancient Aryan traditions.

Does that make you an anti-christian organization?

I couldn't say that we are an anti-christian organization, because our main aim is not to destroy christianity which influence is going to be weaker and weaker every day. As for me, I think that it's a silly to fight with consequences, we must fight with causes.

Say what?

Causes of christianity were greed, treason and short-sight of some Europe rulers and of course activities of "god-selected folk" without which all this madness couldn't happened.

What amount of cooperation do you practise together with B&H?

We are involved in working with BH Ukraine Independent Voice (Sokyra Peruna) in many businesses. This people support us and we support them. Almost every concert in Kharkiv is organized with the help of Independent Voice, and we could always rely on them, they are our big friends and comrades. It is such a pity to see that Ukraine now has two different divisions of Blood and Honor movement-BH Independent Voice and BH/c18. This happened because of penetrating a traitor in Ukrainian movement, her name is not worse even mentioning. This bitch with her chauvinistic ideas polluted minds to people in movement and proclaimed herself a head of BH. She is not more than a provocator and internet rat, but her activities became a cause of rely, even in spite of this, now situation is changing. On the last concert in Kharkiv two bands of different BH's played on one scene, of course I can't say that all problems were solved, but this was a great step to understanding them each other. Also, we don't support stupid wars of BH Independent Voice and BH/C-18. I believe, that maybe in future this two organisations will unite, but they must remember that they don't have too much time for it.

Please tell me about your local scene in Kharkiv.

(music scene?)We don't have Oi and RAC bands now, but I could say that Kharkiv is a place which have a lot of NSBM bands, among them are: Nokturnal Mortum, Dub Buk, Runes Of Dianceht and some other less popular. As for me I like such music, but many mine comrades think that it is too heavy. Also we have label Oriana/Kolovorot productions in our city, and a shop which is specialized on underground and WP music and clothing. During last years quite a lot of gigs were held with a participation of such bands as: Sokyra Peruna, Whites Load, Kolovrat, White Squall, Molot, Honor, Svarog, Tsirulnja, Shield and Sword, Nokturnal Mortum, Dub Buk, Runes Of Dianceht, Temnozor and many other.

Are skinhead accessories expensive there?

If you mean baseball bat it costs about $25 :). As for cloth it is much harder because it's not cheap. We have to order it from Greece, Poland & Russia. Also we order band T-shirts on such big labels as Pure Impact, Panzerfaust & resistance. for example T-shirts cost from 5,5$ to 10$, good flight jackets about 50$ and military trousers about 30$, but in Kharkiv there is not a big choice of such things.

Speaking of salary in Ukraine we can outline 3 categories:

- 1) minimum wages are $40
- 2) medium $100-120
- 3) high $300-400

What brand do you usually wear?

My favourite brand is "Thor Steinar" and I have some clothes by this label, but mainly I wear "Fred Perry" and some things by new Ukrainian brand "Patriot". Patriot Prod. was created by B&H Ukraine & Sokyra Peruna with support of WCOTC Ukraine. The aim of creating this label is that White Men can have their native zines to read, native music to listen and native cloths to wear.

Also, very popular becomes "casual" style" - Lacoste, Stone Island, Pringle, Barbaries, Lambretta.

Is there also a skinhead pub in your city?

It's a pity that we don't have such pub, maybe in future something will change, Still we have a lot of places to gather. Our concerts we usually held in common night-clubs. We never asked the pub owner if he knows who we are but I suppose he suspects something :-). At least we have no problem with it and we are treated well. We even can ask to play our CDs.

You seem to be most active town in Ukraine, tell me about accommodation expenses for those foreign comrades who'd like to witness your scene live?

So, there is a wide range of facilities to choose. Prices vary from 5,5$ or cheaper to 30$ and higher per day. I couldn't say that there is a plenty of good and cheap hotels in our city, but something of course you will find. Here a bottle of beer costs approx. 0,5-1 dollar. In pubs it may cost $1,5. Food costs almost the same as in Romania. Meat cost about $3. A meal in café may cost $5-6. Taxi costs about 20 cents per kilometer. Price for good labels cloths are just the same as in Europe while Turkish thing are very cheap - a pare of jeans may cost $10.

Your next actions for 2004?

We wouldn't like to reveal our future action. W've already participated in organizing a gig in February & we plan a big gig in May. Besides, we'll release zine, stickers etc.

As for merchandise we can offer only production from Patriot prod. That is T-shirts, caps, CDs etc. Also producing of shirts, pullovers etc. is planned for the future.

Thank you for bearing with me for this interview, hail Ukraine and take good care of Bessarabia and Bucovina regions, while they're still yours, that is :-) Thanks & Hails! We do take care about Bukovina and Bessarabia. These regions will always be ours :-)

RECENZII

ANCESTORS (Slovenia) - "Nastal ras" 46:15 min.

White Shadow Rex

Aceasta trebuie să fie prima trupă slavo-nă la care nu mă deranjează limba, un motiv ar fi că muzica este cât de cât rapidă, voioasă și ar merge grozav la pogo, vocea potrivindu-se perfect sunetului de ansamblu, iar apoi albumul debutează cu o piesă tare, în care refrenul "la-la-la" se repetă la greu, deci, după cum am spus, absolut nici o problemă cu limba slovacă ;-)

Deși adept al stilului mai rapid, cea mai bună piesă este de abia ultima, intitulată chiar "Ancestors", melodioasă, cu solouri frumoase de chitară. Pentru achiziționarea albumului, cel mai bine scrieți la secțiunea B&H din Bratislava: bh_slovakia@hotmail.com

BLOOD & HONOUR DEUTSCHLAND 73:40 min.

Sunt foarte surprins că pe această compilație se găsesc aproape numai metale grele, multe dintre ele imposibil pentru mine de ascultat, dar unele trebuie să recunosc că sună bine. Numele trupelor nu sunt trecute pe copertă din simplul motiv că B&H este interzisă în Germania, CDul de față fiind produs undeva în Scandinavia. Cele mai interesante piese sunt: Nigger (de departe cea mai tare piesă!), baladele

Es ist Zeit, Mongoloiet, dar și așa-zisul black metal gen Kinderschänder sau Krieger. Oricum, este destul de enervant să treci de la un stil de muzică la altul, mai ales când e vorba de valorosul Oi! și oribilul metal negru (bleah!) Nu este prezentată nici o adresă de contact, desigur.

BRIGADE M (Olanda) - "Trouw aan Rood, Wit, Blauw" 46:08 min.

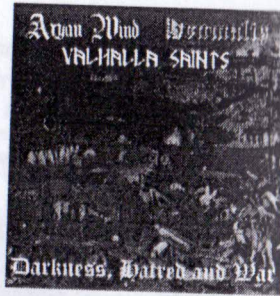

Nu prea sunt multe de spus despre acest album comparat cu cel pe care l-am lansat noi, poate numai că piesele par mai heavy din cauza sunetului de chitară mai distorsionat decât de obicei. Aproape jumătate din piese sunt live, printre care chiar și o preluare Skrewdriver, anume "White Power", dar cea mai tare piesă fiind Terroristen, din păcate calitatea sunetului din concert nu este dintre cele mai bune.

Altfel, un album bunicel. www.sniper-records.net

DARKNESS, HATRED AND WAR 35:03 min.

Bludgeon Rex

Sunt trei trupe pe compilația asta, anume Aryan Wind, Brumalis și Valhalla Saints, și, din câte metale grele am avut și eu ocazia să ascult, am tras concluzia că toate trei sunt adeptele unui gen primitiv, deși mai corect ar fi să spun simplu și foarte ușor de cântat, accesibil oricărui "supărat" care are o chitară și un computer și care vrea să iasă în evidență mai degrabă prin mesajul transmis decât prin muzica propriu-zisă. Dar ce știu eu până la urmă?! În sfârșit, ultima piesă e preluare după Romper Stomper... imaginați-vă piesa asta transpusă pe note blackiste, dacă puteți!?

GRITOS DE GUERRA DE LA J.N.R. 55: 32 min.

Alcantarilla Producciones

Chiar dacă au o grămadă de trupe, spaniolii ăștia nu se prea pot mândri cu prea multe dintre ele, cel puțin nu dintre cele prezente aici. Compilația de față prezintă vreo 10, fiecare cu câte două melodii, și după ce m-am deranjat să o ascult pe toată (bine, recunosc că unele piese au fost într-atât de eneverante că am dat imediat la următoarea), înclin să cred că în scena spaniolă e vorba mai mult de cantitate, decât de calitate. Din toate trupele astea, nu-mi plac decât Falkata și Iberos Saiti, celelalte nu prea mi-au captat atenția. În primul rând, vocaliștii sunt cu totul pe dinafară. Instrumentația mai merge la unele trupe, dar în general totul sună prost, de parcă vocaliștii și-ar urla în ureche, iar ăilalți și-ar chinui chitările și tobele la sute de metri depărtare, că de abia îi auzi. Nu-i deloc un CD pe care să-l recomand.

APRAXIA / MOLOT (Bielorusia) - "Voice of Blood" 42:42 min.

Evil Barber Records

Se pare că din ce în ce mai multe trupe skinhead cântă metale, foarte rar de mai găsești o trupă nouă care s-o mai țină pe oi!. Nici Apraxia/Molot, căci e vorba despre aceeași trupă, cu două albume diferite. Dacă primul aduce un iz de epic, cu o voce încântătoare, a doua parte a CDului ne prezintă noile compoziții mai heavy, unde chiar și vocea mai degrabă urlă decât să cânte propriu-zis ;-), dar tot sună bine și până la urmă la fel de melodios.

POZIȚIA (Rusia) - "Battle Positions" 17 min.

Evil Barber Records

Ei, ce avem noi aici! Păi, ăsta e în sfârșit Oi, clasic, chiar și cu trompete și tot tacâmul. Sună ciudat, dar interesant în rusește, nu mi-a plăcut din prima, dar după alte ascultări, m-am obișnuit. Îmi place atitudinea trupei și temele pe care le propune: huligani, a.c.a.b, ba chiar au o piesă intitulată direct "about an idiot", cu adevărat o trupă skinhead autentică.

SOKYRA PERUNA (Ukraine) - "For all we have and are" 64:29 min.

Eastside Rex

Ce album! Oricând pot ucrainenii aceștia să concureze cu formațiile celebre care sunt difuzate la emisiunile metalice de radio și televiziune doar pentru că acestea sunt în schimb corecte politic. Dar iată că și skinhezii știu să fac muzică bună, care se vinde. Piesele au un ritm rapid, sunt melodice și ușor de reținut. Pe lângă asta, un sunet excepțional și o prezentare pe măsură. Majoritatea cântecelor este dedicată generalului Shandruk și a lui SS Galytchina. Există și o preluare reușită a "Hail the New Dawn". Întru totul, un album ce nu trebuie pierdut și o formație de urmărit. Eu unul m-am dus la ei acasă să-i văd și live ;-P

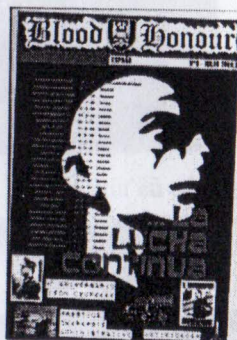

WHITE COVERS (to Landser) 54:56 min.

Aceasta este o versiune editată ilegal în Spania a compilației tribut trupei germane Landser, a cărei membrii după cum știm cu toții, s-au aflat în proces cu Goe din țara lor, unul dintre ei fiind închis. Toate piesele sunt foarte bune, că doar au fost compuse de nemți, dar, din păcate, unele preluări nu prea se ridică la înălțimea originalelor. Formațiile care ies în evidență sunt Intimidation One (SUA), Nahkampf (Germania), Brigade M (Olanda), Spreegeschwader (niște metalști nemți!), Gegenslag (Germania), și chiar și spaniolii de la Omerta care prezintă o foarte interesantă versiune Marrocon Tango în limba lor natală. Profitul în urma vânzărilor va fi donat avocaților formației Landser, așa că dacă vă permiteți, nu ezitați!...

BLOOD & HONOUR Espana # 8 (iulie 2003)

40 pagini A4, lb. spaniolă

Sunt uimit că nu există absolut nici un interviu în revista asta, nici cu vre-o organizație, nici măcar cu vre-o formație de gen. Singurele secțiuni muzicale sunt recenziile la albume și reportaje de la concerte din Spania, Anglia și Franța. Apropos, în doi ani și jumătate de existență, B&H Spania a organizat nici mai mult nici mai puțin de 25 de concerte, asta ca să știți cu cine avem de-a face. În rest, numai articole politice și sociale: cauzele și consecințele războiului din Irak, alegerile electorale din Spania, prizonierii politici, Leon DeGrelle, Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera etc. Revista e tipărită profesional, unele pagini sunt chiar color, ca de exemplu cele două de la mijlocul revistei, care formează un colaj interesant de poze de la diferite manifestări ale diviziei spaniole și nu numai. BLOOD & HONOUR Grecia #7 (noiembrie 2003)

32 pagini A4, lb. greacă

Revista arată bine, tipărită profesional pe foi lucioase și groase, alb-negru. Din păcate, nu înțeleg nici o boabă, am putut doar descifra câteva din trupele intervievate, anume clasicii Peter and the Wolves, Brigade M, Reconquista, Guarda de Ferro, the Gits, și de asemenea m-am prins că sunt reportaje ale scenei din Slovacia și a vechei scene skin din Anglia, concerte, recenzii etc. PO Box 52115, 14410 Atena, GRECIA

DER FORDERTURM #6

72 pagini A4, lb. germană

Se vede de la o poștă că asta e treabă nemțească, după cantitatea, dar și calitatea conținutului. Editorii ne prezintă teme atât skinhead, de la interviuri cu diferite trupe, reportaje de concerte, recenzii la albume, cât și politice, adică demonstrații, conferințe, lansări de cărți etc., majoritatea acțiunilor având loc desigur în Germania. Nu lipsesc nici paginile dedicate camarazilor căzuți, începând cu Rudolf Hess și terminând cu ultimul skinhead neamț. Cu siguranță un material obligatoriu pentru vorbitorii de limbă germană!

NS/WP SKINHEAD SOUND #4

44 pagini A5

Nici numărul ăsta nu-i cine știe ce, dar conține câteva informații destul de picante. Cea mai importantă dintre ele ar fi că niște idioți de skinhezi madrileni au atacat un grup de muncitori români dintr-un sat din apropierea orașului și un alt incident asemănător a avut loc a doua zi într-un alt cartier. Editorul fanzinului condamnă faptele, făcând apel la unitate europeană, bravo lui, dar este o rușine că astfel de manifestări, fie numai și în cazuri izolate, au loc în celebra scenă spaniolă.

În rest, un articol despre skinii moscoviți, un interviu cu serviciul de distribuție norvegian Balder, recenzii la reviste și CD-uri, reportaje de la concerte, dar majoritatea fanzinului e scrisă în spaniolă și-mi este aproape imposibil să înțeleg, bine doar că mai are și unele secțiuni traduse în engleză.

NS/WP SKINHEAD SOUND #5

60 pagini A5

Prezentarea acestui număr este mai bună față de zeroxurile anterioare, copertile fiind acum dublate de un plastic gros, transparent, iar paginile sunt prinse cu un arc metalic, toate acestea ușurând într-o mare măsură păstrarea nealterată în timp a fanzinului. Cât despre conținut, din păcate, are mai puține pagini în engleză ca înainte :-). Totuși, dacă aveți răbdare să consultați dicționarul, veți putea citi cel mai bun interviu din toate timpurile publicat în această revistă :-). E destul de greu să înțelegi fiecare paragraf, dar cu un mic efort, cred că se poate, dacă nu tot, măcar ideile principale.

E vorba de Barrotes, secțiune aparținând B&H Spania care se ocupă de prizonierii politici. Apoi urmează o arhivă a celor mai radicale acte de violență a skinhezilor din întreaga Europă, cronici de concerte, biografii de trupe, recenzii, știri etc.

NSWP SKINHEAD # 6

83 pagini A5

Revista e cu fiecare număr din ce în ce mai voluminoasă, iar conținutul este mereu mai interesant, cel puțin pentru un român care are foarte puțin acces la alte surse de informație în domeniu, eu unul începând înțeleg, înțeleg să prind bătău spaniola, citind chiar fiecare articol cu atenție și pasănd întotdeauna dicționarul lângă mine, măcar așa că am posibilitatea să mă țin la curent cu scena de afară, dacă altă revistă mai bună pe la noi nu prea se găsește.

Interviul cu Barrotes, secțiunea B&H Spania care se ocupă de prizonierii politici, care a fost publicat în numărul trecut, apare acum și în engleză, alături de trupa grecească No Surrender, biografia Centuria și diferite noutăți ale scenei spaniole. În rest, din articolele în spaniolă aș menționa în primul rând reportajul demonstrației dedicate lui Daniel Wrestrom, un adolescent skinhead ucis de emigranți în Suedia, chiar și coperta color prezintă locul unde a fost înfăptuită crima și unde camarazii suedezi au înălțat un monument, interviul cu Estandarte 88 și zecile de recenzii muzicale și literare. De asemenea, de-a lungul a două pagini, diferiți skinii spanioli își exprimă părerile personale cu privire la subiecte ca, de exemplu, Otto Skorzeny sau diferențele dintre naționalism și național-socialism. Fanzinul este bine îngrijit, aceleași coperti dublate cu plastic transparent și legături din arc metalic.

28 pagini A4

Așa trebuie să arate o revistă profesională, adică să aibă coperti color, foi lucioase, CD inclus, și în același timp păstrând identitatea skinhead nealterată. Este publicată în Portugalia și se adresează atât scenei politice, cât și celei apolitice, dar fără a susține Sharpi sau "intruși roșii", citindu-i pe editori. Numărul de față prezintă câteva interviuri de excepție cu trupe ca Blue Eyed Devils, Condemned 84 sau Brigade M, ca să enumăr câteva dintre cele mai cunoscute, fiind multe alte scurte interviuri cu diferite trupe de pe tot globul, organizații naționaliste ca veteranii italieni de la Veneto Fronte, și în mod special Brocco McManus, un ciocănar care se ocupă de tatuaje. Desigur, recenzii la CD-uri, reviste etc. De pe compilație ies în evidență Bully Boys cu "Superstar" - versurile cântecului s-ar potrivi foarte bine României înainte de toate -, Nemesis, Kolovrat, Youngland etc.

ROMANIAN ULTRAS #1 (64 pagini A5)

Prima revistă de gen din România, exceptând, desigur, foile diferitelor galerii. Conține reportaje din România (am fost plăcut impresionat de mișcarea divizionară B, deși acolo înclin să cred că grupările nu sunt asuprite de gabori în aceeași măsură ca pe prima scenă), dar și din Polonia. Din când în când se mai pomenește și de skinheads :-). Din revistă puteți învăța cum să vă fabricați propriul banner, steag etc., sau cum să contestați în instanță o amendă pe care vreun țaran în albastru v-a dat-o doar pentru că v-ați manifestat iubirea față de culorile preferate etc. Pentru ucenici, există chiar și un cod de reguli ultras, aici având publicată versiunea unei grupări din Timișoara. Nu pot să nu folosesc această ocazie pentru a vă informa că așa-ziii cei mai grozavi suporteri din România și-au încălcat propria regulă nr. 1 ("Iubește tricoul echipei tale și culorile echipei mai presus de orice lucru"), trădându-și echipa pierdută undeva prin C sau D, cine dracu mai ține socoteala, în schimb ei încurajând Fulgeru Bragadiru LOL

Pe ansamblu, revista este o inițiativă de laudat, singura obiecție ar fi numele, deloc inspirat. Din moment ce revista e scrisă și în românește, nu văd rostul numelui în engleză. Până și numele de "Microbist" se potrivea mai bine :-)))

WINTER AID

B&H Rumania is still looking for bands to participate on our CD sampler for the benefit of unfortunate kids in our country. We want decent lyrics about motherhood, children, education etc., so no usual skinhead themes on street-fighting, football, getting drunk, beating up niggers and hailing a new holohoax. So far the following bands donated us a track each: RED, WHITE & BLACK (USA), NO SURRENDER (Greece), SOKYRA PERUNA (Ukraine), BRIGADE M (Netherlands), KOLOVRAT (Russia), PANZERJAGER (France), GUARDA DE FERRO (Portugal). Please join them! Also, a % from the profits will be donated to KOLOVRAT Denis' family in Moscow.

ROCK AGAINST COMMUNISM!

B&H Rumania is looking for RAC bands to release a CD sampler tribute to local heroine Elisabeta Rizea, who unfortunately died last autumn, Oktober 6th, at the age of 91. She spent 12 years in jail, she was beaten up, hanged by her hair from a hook, scalped, burnt, her knees broken as she couldn't move but only on her fours, left to freeze outside in winter etc. by Rumanian socialist secret service, just because she didn't reveal the hiding place of the anti-communist resistance unit, her husband served in after the WW2. We will donate the profits to an independent patriotic group from Rumania who had the initiative to build her a monument on the place where before the 1989 revolution Lenin's statue was placed. The CD-R will be double and also contain video interviews with our heroine and martyr. Help us fight the neo-commie government from Rumania, which oppresses the memory of our foremothers.

Boycott

For years Lonsdale has been the brand for Skinheads. He who now buys clothing from Lonsdale supports Lonsdales anti-racism campaign. Lonsdale has organised the campaign because H. Bulsink of Lonsdale Germany says their image is having problems because of right-extremists and neo-nazi's. "We hang labels on our clothes with the logo of the campaign (Courage against rightist violence), we also sponsor anti-racism concerts (Open your eyes!) and work with the Dutch organisation Racism Beat It", according to Bulsink. 'Racism Beat It' is a part of 'Pop Against Racism' (now called Mixt) and was started in the beginning of the '90 in extreme-left circles in Nijmegen en Amsterdam. Contributors were a.o. members of the communist SAP and CPN. From the same ranks has the Anti-Fascist Action (AFA) appeared. 'Mixt' works together with de Jongerenbond (known form their campaign against a nationalist free-zone), Jonge Socialisten in the PvdA and Rood, the youth of the SP (alle leftih scum).

When you buy Lonsdale clothes, you support
Leftish and multi-cultural profiteers!!
Boycott Lonsdale!!!

But not only Lonsdale is a 'contagious' brand. Fred Perry, Dr. Martens, Ben Sherman, but also Hooligan, Pitt Bull and other so-called 'racist' clothing are manufactured by capitalist enterprises in low wages countries through which European workers lose their jobs. Hardly a penny from these products benefits the nationalist movement. Think before you spend hundreds of Euros on your enemies. You'd better buy t-shirts or sweaters with nationalist slogans or from nationalist groups. Most of the times they're even cheaper. With the money you save you can subscribe to a good political magazine, order stickers or buy spray-paint cans and take direct nationalist action.

Not a penny for the enemy, wear nationalist clothes!
